We Care

At Logan City Special school we explicitly teach the skills in the key rule we Care.

We care for ourselves We care for other people We care for our school

At home if your child is showing aggressive behaviour then at that moment they are not being caring. At home you can support and encourage caring behaviour through:

- the use of visual cues
- reminding your child of what caring behaviour looks and sounds like
- reminding them to make good choices
- reminding them to use gentle hands
- encouraging them to move away from the problem to calm down
- encouraging them to use words to express their emotion
- using their PODD or symbols to communicate about the problem.

At home your child may need to be reminded about how to care for others and themselves before a situation where your child may become angry or frustrated, for example, when sharing a toy, doing something they do not wish to do, travelling on the bus, etc. At home having consistent and clear expectations and reminding your children about alternative ways to express themselves will encourage caring behaviour.

Our school rules remind us of our responsibilities and ways of acting.

Each fortnight in the newsletter there will be information about Positive Behaviour Support.

NDIS
We held a very informative session on the National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS). We are holding another session on 28 July—we will remind you closer to the time however the NDIS website is excellent and we have some information in the school office you can collect.

CLASS UPDATES
Primary B are investigating what impact a literacy computer based program called Lexia will offer students support in their literacy progress.

SCHOOL BANKING
Our school now offers our students school banking and to begin the practice of saving. We will have presentations soon on assembly to inform students of the benefits of saving.

MOTHERS DAY
Huge thanks to the P & C for setting up the option for students to purchase items that we hope were well appreciated on Mothers Day. Big thanks to Annette McKenna and the Heckenburg family.

BIKES MAINTENANCE
We would like to thank the Heckenberg family who have helped with bike maintenance to ensure the students can use bikes with maintained equipment and pumped tyres.

SHEDS
The Heckenberg & Benussi family have also helped clean out our sheds—thanks again for your wonderful support.

Have a great fortnight
